

Understanding Values

It is so easy to look at a list of values and say this is what I am about. I believe in this; this is important to me! As you consider discerning the values of Berea Friendship UMC stay corporately focused. The question is not - what are your personal values. The question being asked is - what are BFUMC's values! The church is the people and I understand there should logically be some parallels. Here is the pivotal point to ponder and process in order to discern BFUMC's values rightly. Values invariably produce evidence! What a church values can be seen. There will be clear visible evidence associated with values. Values are what we do! Values are how we behave! You have heard me say many times in my sermons that action is truth. What we value is where we put our money, time, and energy. It is where we invest ourselves. What evidence do you see? In the evidence we will find BFUMC's values.
